Delay for Stand-Alone Aeromonas Culture

Last week, we sent you an email telling you about an upcoming change to the stool culture transitioning to GI Panel by PCR. We had anticipated launching this update on February 21st, but we need to inform you that there will be a delay due to the stand-alone Aeromonas Culture not successfully built. At this time, you may continue to order Stool Culture w/EC Toxin & Campy Ag (C STOOL). The new transition date has been postponed until Wednesday February 28th, 2024.

Thank you for your understanding and patience. We appreciate your continued collaboration and will keep you apprised of the progress.

Thank you for choosing MercyOne Des Moines Laboratory.
