

On-site/near-site health services

A valuable health care experience for employees

By providing on-site or near-site health services, your employees will enjoy the ease of convenient appointments while maintaining productive work time.

On-site and/or near-site health centers offer a convenient solution for proactive care that supports an employee's return to work. Offering primary care, episodic care and health management programs at or near your place of business, on a full-time or even part-time basis, can enhance productivity while cutting costs and streamline reporting.

Our on-site health center experience is designed to engage your employees in taking charge of their own health and also serves as a center for health education and wellbeing activities. Alternatively, we can identify a near-site facility with a customized approach for your employees.
