

Direct Contracting

Improving care and lowering costs

Under a direct contracting model, we are able to institute an effective approach to bending the cost curve while ensuring your employees have a high-quality health care experience.

To transform care delivery, we review historical claims data trends and utilization patterns to provide you with a complete picture of your employee population's health care needs.

Businesses of all sizes can benefit from a direct contracting arrangement, because it opens the door for discussion around price transparency and quality measurements. As a result, most employers see an average savings of five to ten percent of total medical spend.

BENEFITS OF DIRECT CONTRACTING INCLUDE:

- Cost predictability through bundled payments or pre-negotiated fee-for-services pricing
- Improves quality of care and health outcomes
- Enhances an existing provider network or service offering
- Creates an aligned interest between employers and providers
